

Back stitch... Back stitch family

Bring the thread up from the back of the fabric on the line that you want to create.

Make a small backward stitch through the fabric.

Bring the needle through the fabric a little in front of the first stitch and still on the line.

Pull the thread through the fabric.

Make the second stitch backward, inserting the needle down into the hole made by the first stitch and bringing the needle out a little in front of the second stitch but still on the line.

Repeat this movement and continue sewing in such a manner along the line.
